Autorinnen und Autoren / Contributors

Andy Durgan is a historian who has published widely on the Spanish Civil War and workers’ movement. He is a member of En lluita in Barcelona.

Michael Esch, PD Dr., Institute of History, Heinrich-Heine University, Düsseldorf: freelance historian and translator, “Phantomgrenzen” network, Centre Marc Bloch, Berlin.

Jan Haverkamp, M.A., works at the memorial site and museum of the former concentration camp Sachsenhausen, lives in Berlin.

Max Henninger, M.A., Ph.D., freelance translator, lives in Berlin.

Gisela Notz, Dr. phil., editor of the journal LunaPark 21, lives in Berlin.

Andrea Rudorff, M.A., historian and doctoral candidate at the Centre for Research on Antisemitism, lives in Berlin and is currently working on a dissertation about “Women in the subcamps of the Groß-Rosen concentration camp.”

Joel Sans is an activist in the 15 May Movement in Barcelona, editor of the magazine La Hiedra and a member of En lluita.